Woodland Cultural Centre: Overview

The Woodland Cultural Centre (WCC) was established in October 1972, under the direction of the Association of Iroquois and Allied Indians upon the closure of the Mohawk Institute Residential School. WCC's focus began on collecting research and artifacts, to develop its library and museum collections, expanding to include the arts in 1975 and the language program in 1984.

What We Offer:

- Historic and Contemporary exhibitions based on research by Indigenous scholars
- Educational programs for schools, community organizations, general public and corporate partners
- A permanent collection of 35,000 objects consisting of both historic artifacts and contemporary art
- Public programs such as performances (music, dance, theatre), film and media arts, readings, festivals, outdoor installations/public art, lectures, symposia
- Language programs, publication of language resources and an extensive collection of oral history recordings
- A library collection and archive

How We Work With Corporate Partners

The Woodland Cultural Centre works to match corporate partners to ensure the best fit to match the values and goals of the partner and the goals and values of the WCC. We work to build longer-term relationship with our partners.
